Avatar-based AI Revolutionizes HR

Gain a competitive advantage in the new technology-driven era of training and evaluation

alelo ENSKILL®

Artificial intelligence role-playing for recruitment and training

Enter Enskill® HR from Alelo

Enskill HR is an avatar-based AI training and recruitment solution that enables your HR department to remotely train employees and assess job candidates – with superior results.

Superior Training and Evaluations – at Lower Costs

With Enskill HR users engage in interactive online conversations with socially intelligent virtual humans in a realistic workplace setting. They can use a mobile device, desktop or virtual reality headset in any private setting. Immediate feedback is provided to both users and administrators. For training, employees receive personalized instruction in areas they need to improve and can repeat practice as often as they like. It's like having a personal tutor, available at any time, but at a cost that can be up to 75X less than one-on-one instruction.

Meet the future: Alelo Enskill® HR

CUSTOMIZED AVATAR-BASED AI SOLUTIONS THAT IMPROVE TRAINING AND EVALUATION WHILE LOWERING COSTS

Employee Training

Improve the job skills of your sales staff, customer service team and other employees

Role-playing with avatars in simulated scenarios tailored to your business teaches vital employee job skills. Immediate, personalized feedback helps employees improve quickly. Administrators track participation and progress on a dashboard.

Job Candidate Prescreening

Find the job candidates who have the coveted skills your business needs to thrive.

Candidates converse with an AI avatar that assesses their soft skills and job-related competencies, then provides a score. Administrators can see all candidate scores on a dashboard and can drill down to view each candidate's results or hear an audio of the simulation.

Soft Skills Development

Effective, persuasive communication for your employees

Improve the soft communication skills of your sales, customer service, and leadership teams as they role-play with AI avatars then get personalized feedback on their performance. Administrators can monitor employee participation and progress.

Workplace English Proficiency

Ensure your English as a second language (ESL) employees have the verbal and written English skills needed for success.

Role-playing with AI avatars provides an accurate assessment and effective training of an employee's English skills. Individual industry scenarios include hospitality, retail, banking, and more.
